Soleiman Ahmady MD, PhD:

Is full professor of medical education at Shahid Beheshti University of Medical Sciences and Dean for School of Medical Education & Learning Technologies. His main areas of expertise are on medical education clinical training, accreditation. faculty development, simulation in medical education and Technology Enhanced Learning (TEL). He has been invited as a speaker in different national and international events in topics related to Health Profession Education. He usually collaborates with communities in topics related with accreditation (like WFME), medical simulation and faculty development. Professor Soleiman Ahmady has received several awards for his work on scholarship of teaching and learning and educational technologies. He has over 150 publications and has participated in over 20 research projects at the international, national, and regional levels as well as with different education institutions. Professor Ahmady has been appointed as a head and director of National Board for Medical Education at ministry level. Along with these academic activities, he works professionally as the Editorial Board Member for the BMC Medical Education and Editor-in-Chief: Journal Of Medical Education(JME) as well.

https://brieflands.com/journals/journal-of-medical-education
www.sme.sbmu.ac.ir/